WIN THREE STRAIGHT; LOSE TO VA.

SETTLE'S BENDERS FORCE WILLIAMS COLLEGE TO TAKE SHORT END OF BIG SCORE—WHOLE TEAM PLAYS GILT-EDGED BALL.

Playing their last home game before departing on the Northern trip, the BIG TEAM proceeded to administer a dose of bitter medicine to the Bay State outfit representing Williams College. Hicks started the fireworks in the first inning by drawing a free ticket to first. A sacrifice and steal of third put the John Marshall boy in a position to score on Lowe's outfield fly. And from then on until the ninth the only question was the size of the Indians' score. Timely hitting combined with ragged fielding and errors of the visitors in the pinches rendered the locals' score quite imposing.

The game was replete with surprises, but the decided feature was the return to form of "Big Chief" Settle. The big right-hander had been in bad shape up to that time, due to a strained shoulder, but coaxed on by a warm, spring day, the Indians' captain resumed his old-time effectiveness. Haley has never been famous for hitless games, and Friday was a repetition of the old story—they couldn't touch him in the pinches.

Indians Show Splendid Defensive.

Not only was the play of Williams College rather ragged, but the contrast was more evident from the fact that the home lads "looked like a million dollars." Time and again rapid-fire infield play turned what seemed to be a sure base-hit into an out. The play fairly sparkled, scintillated—to impose on Ring Lardner's vocabulary. Lowe, Hicks, Jones and Cooke all looked so good that we wouldn't swap them for any combination in the South Atlantic.

And that outfield, particularly "Monk" and "Scrap," more than made themselves famous. When a ball was hit to center field the stands settled back and nonchalantly watched it drop into "Monk's" waiting hands. Likewise did "Scrap" put in a good afternoon's work. Seven outfield put-outs is a good day's work for any pair of gardeners. And the only reason little Clark didn't contribute is that they wouldn't hit 'em to him.

And don't forget Ferdie. He is always at his best when Haley is in the box and this was no exception. Steady in the pinches the old battery of Settle and Chandler looked better than ever before.

A Swatting Team.

The hitting feature of the game was Cookie's double with three men on in the fourth inning. J. Chandler, Jones, and F. Chandler each contributed two-base blows apiece. There's no doubt about it—the BIG TEAM can hit. And that Williams battery was no sinecure. Gregory and Finn would have given

NEWSPAPER CONVENTION

Staff members of practically all the leading college newspapers of the South Atlantic section will convene in Richmond on April 22 and 23. This project, which will probably mark the beginning of an association, is one which has been fostered for some time by the "Richmond Collegian," the official organ of the University of Richmond. The plan is indeed a commendable one which has it in its power to accomplish beneficial results.

An interesting program has been arranged, including addresses by Douglas Freeman, of the News-Leader; Editor McKnight, of the Columbia Spectator, who is likewise President of the Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, and others. All representatives will stay at the University as guests of the Collegian staff.

The formation of a Southern Newspaper Association would have untold benefits. Co-operation is one of the secrets of modern efficiency, and this would certainly lead to advanced efficiency. It seems to us that the "Collegian" has struck the keynote of a great need among papers of this section. THE FLAT HAT will be represented at the convention and will exert all possible influence toward a close harmony among the publications of the institutions of this section.

MRS. JUCHOFF ENTERTAINS

Peacock Hill was the scene of a regular Tuesday parade from 3 to 6 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Juchoff entertained all the college girls at the home of Mrs. Norval Henley, and one and all they responded to the invitation and sallied forth in gala attire.

And "right royally" were they entertained. The house was beautifully and artistically decorated. The blinds were drawn—artificial light being furnished by numerous candles. Vases and bowls of all kinds of cut flowers were placed in profusion around the room, while potted plants lent their beauty to the general effect.

Mrs. Juchoff received at the door, while Mrs. Warbourton was the mistress of ceremonies in the dining-room. She was assisted there by Misses Catherine Dennis, Wilma Powell, Madeline Blakey and Ruth Cashion. The refreshments consisted of delicious ice cream and cake.

The girls went away late in the afternoon voting Mrs. Juchoff a unanimous vote of thanks for the very pleasant afternoon she had given them.

Debutante: Wonderfully! It has everything skinned, including my ankles.—Black and Blue Jay.

LYNCHBURG COLLEGE FALLS BEFORE ON-SLAUGHT OF ONRUSHING INDIANS; UNABLE TO FATHOM MARSHALL'S SLANTS.

Starting the old Northern trip with a vim and a vigor, the Big Team made the Hill City aggregation the first victim of the junket. Well, we knew it would be that way—but Lynchburg had made quite an enviable rep previous to this, enough to cause us just a little worry. It's a pleasant sensation to see another fracas climb into the fold. It took eleven long innings to turn the trick, which proves that the score of 8-3 is a bit of a deception; the game wasn't a walkaway by a long shot.

"Scrap Chandler toiled for our boys for seven innings, and right well did he acquit himself, only six hits and three runs being made off his delivery. But timely hitting in the seventh inning netted the Lynchburgers two runs, and warned the coach that the strain was beginning to tell on the little fellow whereupon he shifted Scrap to left field and put the "Hillsville Goliath," Ox Marshall, in the box. In the four innings that he twirled the "Big Boy" allowed the opponents one measly hit, but the bases were loaded on errors on one occasion. A fast fielding play by the Rube himself cut off a run.

Game Sewed Up in the Eleventh.

They say that the seventh inning is the lucky one, but in African golf eleven is a more desirable point than seven, quite as lucky and never dangerous. So it was in this game. The old team got its war clubs in earnest, those same clubs which had sent the much touted Thomas to the showers in the third inning. And they meant business, for when the dust cleared away the scorer announced five runs for William and Mary. In the face of Marshall's twirling those boys had about as much chance of getting five runs back as a sober man has of eating ice cream on a red-hot stove; needless to say we won.

The game was rather loosely played, due to the cold weather which caused an unusual number of errors.

INDIANS BRING W. & L. TO TERMS IN LAST GAME OF TRIP

The second win of the trip fell into the BIG TEAM'S bat bag on Tuesday when the Generals succumbed to the spell of Marshall's slants and dropped the contest by a 5-1 score. "Revenge is sweet" is an age-old maxim and "Ox" certainly believes it. Somewhere back in the recesses of his brain he retains a dim recollection of that 16-4 beating the Generals handed him last year. He pitched airtight ball, allowing the opponents four hits and sending eight batsmen back to the bench via the three-swing route. In short, tight pitching!

White Stars.

And he was materially aided in his endeavors by a diminutive, white-haired lad who ordinarily cavorts around center field. For, with men straining off second and third in the third inning, the little fellow lined out a pretty single, bringing both runners across. Ferdie Chandler had a big day, being the only man on the team to secure two hits.

The fielding feature of the game was Monk's shoestring catch of a hard drive. Smart baserunning characterized this game for the Indians, and coupled with errors by opponents gave the team three more in the sixth.

A RESUME

The Team's Action to Date.

Up to the time that this material went to press on Wednesday night, the team had played ten games. Of this number seven were on the won side of the column, and three on the lost side. The three defeats were at the hands of Holy Cross New York University and University of Virginia. This last defeat put a heavy crimp in our hopes and aspirations for a clean title to the State championship.

In these ten games the team has scored seventy-eight runs to the opponents' thirty-four. In short, they have just doubled the enemy's score with ten runs for good measure. Despite the fact that we were disappointed about that Virginia game this record is an unusually good one, and one that merits the heartiest support.

The Spiders are going rather badly this year. Randolph-Macon trimmed them, 3 to 2, the other day, and Georgetown put the quietus on them to the tune of 8-1 on Tuesday. We wish 'em the best of luck, but we expect to add a couple more to their string of defeats before the end of the year.

Monk is going great guns in center field. He certainly hit one at an opportune moment at Lexington.

INDIANS' WINNING STREAK SMASHED

Charlottesville, Va., April 13.—Staging a batting rally in the ninth, which yielded five runs, Virginia checked William and Mary's winning streak today, winning 8 to 6. Tavernor, a pinch hitter, tripled, and Mahood drove out a home run, scoring two ahead of him. Captain Harrison, of Virginia, was hit on his pitching arm while at bat in the first inning, and was forced to retire.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT IS UNDER WAY

Many Competitors Having Merry Struggle in Close Matches.

The tennis tournament which was announced in these columns some time ago is now well under way, all the matches in the first round having been played off, and a few of the second. Competition is intense among both men and women. The winners in this elimination series will be selected to represent the college in the intercollegiate matches to be held in the near future.

First Round (women)—Eifert won from Hutchings, 6-3; 6-1; Weedon won from Cashion, 7-5, 6-1; Harris won from Pleasants, 6-1, 6-4; Barksdale won from Richardson, 7-5, 7-5; Seager won from VanSickler, 6-0, 6-3.

Second Round (women)—Weedon won from Harris, 6-1, 6-0; Seager won from Barksdale, 6-0, 6-0.

First Round (men)—Pollard beat Burcher, 6-3, 6-3; Spain beat Reed, 6-2, 6-0; C. Pierce beat Chisholm, 9-7, 6-1; Cline beat Kennard, 6-2, 6-2; Dietz beat Abernathy, 6-2, 6-4; Fitzgerald beat Hogg; Berl beat Hancock, 6-1, 6-1; Poulson beat Davis, 6-0, 6-0; Christian beat Peake, 6-1, 6-4; Wilshin beat Sapp, 6-0, 6-0; Richmond beat Russell, 6-2, 6-4.

Second Round (men)—Pollard beat Spain, 6-4, 6-0; Cline beat C. Pierce, 6-0, 6-1; Wilshin beat Christian, 6-1, 6-2.

Celebrations were the order of the day last week. Sleep loving souls suffered agonies on Monday and Tuesday nights. We venture to say that no one sought the arms of Morpheus before 2 o'clock in the morning. And the town's supply of spare wood is a negative quantity. Maybe it's a good thing we didn't beat Virginia, for if we had some peaceful citizen would have awakened Thursday morning and found his outhouses, if not his domicile, turned to ashes.

Ferdie got a three-bagger against Lynchburg and two one-base taps at Lexington. The big backstop is striking his stride, it seems.

It took the students a long time to realize that Virginia had beaten us. They haven't recovered from the shock yet. The old story: there's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip!

Virginia beat Williams, 6-5, we trimmed Williams, 10-1 and Virginia downed us, 6-5. Well, baseball's a funny game and this is a crool, crool, would!

SUCCESSFUL DANCES

Easter Hops Prove to Be Most Enjoyable of the Current Year.

On last Thursday night a reign of festivity was declared, and from then until Saturday afternoon the jazz hounds and tango lizards held full sway. For those two nights saw a pair of dances unequalled by any of their predecessors of the present year. The "old pep" was right on the job and spiced affairs up to the highest point.

The music, provided by the "Special Sextet" of Norfolk, was of a high order. These merry-makers uncorked a repertoire of snappy fox-trots and dreamy waltzes that brought numerous encores. With the exception of the "Pied Pipers" their music was the best provided here this year. They approached as nearly as can ever be expected, the advance notices, which were glorious in the extreme.

Small Crowd Thursday Night.

Due to the fact that Thursday is rather early in the week for visitors, only a limited number were in attendance at the first dance. In addition the baseball squad was ordered to leave at 11:30, the net result of which was an unusually small number of dancers for a college affair.

But on Friday night the deficiency was more than atoned for. Visitors and alumni, attracted by the excellent reputation of the William and Mary dances, poured in from all corners of Tidewater Virginia. This, following a decided victory for the baseball team, loaned a spirit of joy to the occasion which just would come out.

And visiting girls! The number, beauty, and dancing ability of the fair sojourners was indeed good to behold. More out-of-town girls were present at these dances than at any dance we have witnessed since the introduction of co-education. Without them the unusually large number of male visitors would have made the latter dance a one-sided affair.

Favorable Comments.

The dances were commented upon on all sides because of the utter absence of those objectionable forms of dancing which are, in so many instances, attaching a stigma to college dances. "Cleanest hops I have ever seen" was the remark of one visitor who has been to dances at practically every institution in the State. These favorable comments should make all of us wish to live up to this fine standard, for we should realize the great advertisement good dances can be, as well as the harm that can be caused by disreputable dances.

Although we do not pretend to append a full list of visiting alumni, the following are some whom our eagle eye caught sight of: A. E. Hall, C. A. Almond, E. G. Jeffrey, H. S. Fentress, A. P. S. Robinson, S. H. Jones, W. S. Manson, F. S. Manson, W. T. Burch, J. T. Henley, T. J. Massey, L. E. Davis and Joe Jarman.

WELL! WELL!

We have been somewhat discouraged from time to time during the year as the might of our editorial pen seemed to fall on heedless ears, but have been highly gratified during the past week because of unmistakable evidence that one of our numerous "ducs" had accidentally stumbled onto our editorial page and drank to the depths from this fountain of inspiration. After reading our comment on the recent expedition in quest of the time-honored snipe, his curiosity was so aroused that he sought information as to the habits and appearance of this strange animal of which he, a Nimrod of no little experience, had never heard.

Beloved brethren quickly gave in detail the desired information, and touched by the pathetic enthusiasm of their young friend, offered to accompany him at once on a snipe hunt, the thrills of which he was assured no one could appreciate without actually experiencing them. The victim, armed with a barracks bag, a flashlight, and a large board, was accordingly conducted to the historic gully east of the noted Country Club, sometimes known as the Institute, where he was instructed as to how the snipe should be attracted by the light, and could very easily be swept into the bag by means of the board.

The instructions were carried out to the letter, and the ardent young hunter would, no doubt, have arrived home well laden with snipe had not the batteries of his flashlight become exhausted around midnight.

Common courtesy and a natural sense of modesty forbid our mentioning any names further than to say that the young man in question hails from the tall timbers of Norfolk, is a veteran of many hard fought battles on the gridiron, and abides for the time being in that exclusive section of Williamsburg known as Peacock Hill. However, "it don't make no difference, nohow."

SPORTSMANSHIP

There are many advantages which we claim for William and Mary as the ideally American college. It was here that the honor system was founded; it was here that Jefferson, Marshall, Henry, and a host of others whose names are by-words of campus historians received their education and left their imprint. These facts create an atmosphere which tends to develop those instincts of gentlemanliness and honor which are the best in a man's makeup. And the atmosphere, we believe can be duplicated or equalled at no other American institution.

This spirit pervades all things, in this particular case we refer to athletics. The William and Mary student is taught that Victory is not the essential consideration—it must be subordinated to a sense of good sportsmanship. This is a term which we find difficult to define, but one which all of us sense instantly. We have the reputation of developing clean, fair teams who achieve victory with modesty, and bear defeat with the best of grace. And we are proud of the reputation, much prouder than we could possibly be of any sort of championship.

Nor are we slow to recognize this quality in others and to acclaim it wherever met. And we met it in an advanced stage in the men of the Williams College baseball team. It is a difficult thing to accept defeat gracefully as the breaks of the game go against you, when your team is playing about one-tenth as well as you know they can play—mighty difficult. And these men did it well. For all the fact that they were way in the rear there were no disputes on close decisions, no brawling or back-talk, if they disagreed with the umpire they did so in a good-natured way. In short they behaved as gentlemen should behave.

We are indeed glad to have had this college on our schedule; they did not show at their best, it is true, and all of us realized that we were playing them on an "off" day, but we hope that some day we can encounter them when their team is at its best. All hail, gentlemen, and may our relations not cease here!

O Tempora! O Mores!

Bedsaul was taking a little exercise with a large bat and an indoor baseball. He swung at the spheroid and missed it approximately three feet.

"Now what are you doing, Bedsaul?" was the bystander's query.

"Playing co-educational baseball," was the nonchalant reply.

TENSE NEAR-TRAGEDY

A new Alice Brady picture is always a treat to film lovers, and local playgoers will welcome the appearance of this popular star at the Palace Theater, in "Out of the Chorus," a tense emotional drama which borders on the melo-dramatic, as strong drama is bound to do, but which gives Miss Brady a role of the sort which she handles most expertly.

TUESDAY

Allan Dwan's newest comedy drama, "A Perfect Crime," which appears at the Palace Theater next Tuesday, reveals the desirability of indulging in that American pastime, pretending to be what you aren't. The hero, Wally Griggs, is a grand pretender. With the aid of a little nerve he is transformed from a timid bank messenger to a dominant humbug whose latest book on faked travels brings him a fortune—and of course a girl.

Monte Blue, considered one of the ablest actors on the screen, has the role of Wally Griggs, the awkward, bashful fellow.

WEDNESDAY

Mary Miles Minter, star of "All Souls' Eve," a play that deals with the return of departed spirits to the scenes of their earthly lives, says she isn't quite sure she believes that spirits can come back, but she thinks they must be able in some fashion to write back, because she recently received a letter which bore the return address: "Brimstone Railroad and Canal Co, Sulphur, La." and that address sounds suspiciously like the bad place to her.

THURSDAY

THE OLDEST AND NEWEST STARS IN "THE SAPHEAD"

William H. Crane, who plays the financial baron in "The Saphead," to be shown at the Palace Theater Thursday, is the oldest star in point of service in the theatrical world in America. Nearly forty years ago, he first had his name in big letters in front of a Broadway Theater. Every year thereafter his appearances were eagerly awaited, up to his retirement from the stage a few years ago. His return, as a screen star, stirs old memories.

FRIDAY

IN STRONG PICTURE

In "Extravagance," the Metro special picture which comes to the Palace Theater on Friday, critics agree that May Allison, the lovely screen star, has a vehicle fitting her consummately. The picture has met with one reception—that of unqualified favor.

SATURDAY

Shirley Mason in "The Flame of Youth" will be the attraction at the Palace Theater Saturday, with Charles Chaplin in "The Adventurer."
